50 Years of The Australian
edited by Murray Goot and Bridget Griffen-Foley

Media Histories
edited by Tom O'Regan and Huw Walmsley-Evans
Editorial Sue Turnbull ................................................................. 1
ANZCA News Donald Matheson .................................................. 4

50 YEARS OF THE AUSTRALIAN
Fifty years of The Australian Murray Goot ........................................ 5
The proprietor model Mark Day ......................................................... 28
The paper and the nation: 50 years of The Australian Paul Kelly .................. 34
The Australian in Canberra, 1964–67 Patricia Clarke .................................... 41
A grand adventure (in which the author encountered Rupert Murdoch’s ideas about what women want) Julie Rigg .............................................................. 49
The revolution in political cartoons and the early Australian Robert Phiddian .... 56
The Australian’s Media supplement: A lapdog, a watchdog, an attack dog or all of the above? Andrew Dodd and Matthew Ricketson ........................................ 68
Sending a message: The Australian’s reporting of media policy Sally Young .......... 79

MEDIA HISTORIES
Media histories Tom O’Regan and Huw Walmsley-Evans ............................... 91
From data to news: Weather reporting, telegraphy and the press in colonial Australia Denis Cryle ................................................................. 93
The mediated Asian-Australian food identity: From Charmaine Solomon to MasterChef Australia Frances Bonner .............................................. 103
The rise of the spin doctor: From personal briefings to news management David McKnight ........................................................................... 114
Charles Brunsdon Fletcher, the Sydney Morning Herald, Australia, Asia and the Pacific Margaret Van Heekeren ................................................................. 124
The Nimble Savage: Press constructions of Pacific Islander swimmers in early twentieth-century Australia Gary Osmond ............................................................... 133
Affect, upset and the self: Memories of television in Australia Sue Turnbull and Stephanie Hanson ........................................................... 144
Too many grooves? Radio’s reconnection with youth in the 2000s Chris K. Wilson .............................................................................. 153
Reviews Edited by Sheree Gregory ......................................................... 169
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Reviews in this issue</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fahlenbrach, Kathrin, Sivertsen, Erling, Werenskjold, Rolf (eds), Media and Revolt: Strategies and Performances from the 1960s to the Present</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Glynn, Stephen, Quadrophenia</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gitelman, Lisa, Paper Knowledge: Toward a Media History of Documents</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Griffin-Foley, Bridget, Sir Frank Packer: A Biography (2nd ed.)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kahn, Paul W., Finding Ourselves at the Movies: Philosophy for a New Generation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>May, Josephine, Reel Schools: Schooling and the Nation in Australian Cinema</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McDonnell, Andrea M., Reading Celebrity Gossip Magazines</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>O’Day, Andrew (ed.), Doctor Who: The Eleventh Hour – A Critical Celebration of the Matt Smith and Steven Moffat Era</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Poerksen, Bernhard and Detel, Hanne, The Unleashed Scandal: The End of Control in the Digital Age</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For further information, contact Dr Rowan Wilken, at rwilken,